Mahan Is Possible Five Gold Ball Man

Charley Brickley, Eddie Mahan, Westmore Wilcox, jr., Dick Harte, and Ernie Soucy are five of the Harvard men who may be graduated with the proud distinction of having attained the "H" in three major sports, as has "Tack" Hardwick already.

If Brickley succeeds in "making" the position of catcher with the varsity nine in the spring, and Harvard should then proceed to take two out of three from Yale. Brickley would be a four gold ball man. If Hardwick should get a fifth gold ball in the spring as a reward for playing on a winning Harvard nine, Eddie Mahan would then be about the only man in sight capable of tying Tack, and he'd have to play on two Harvard nine victorious over Yale and on an eleven that beats Eli next year to do it.

FARRELL STEPS OUT

New York, Dec. 31 .- The New York American League club has been sold by Frank Farrell and "Big Bill" Devery to Jacob Ruppert, jr., and Capt. Til. Hus-ton. Ban Johnson, president of the American League, who made the announcement of the sale at 4 p. m. today, would not state the terms of the "Bill" Donovan, former Detroit pitcher, and manager of the Providence team in the International League in 1914, will manage the 1915 Yankees, said Johnson. The sale was concluded today after an all-day conference by Johnson, Farrell, Devery, and Huston The deal hung fire for nearly a month.

After Johnson made announcement of the sale, Ruppert, the new owner

"I will act as president of the club and Capt. Huston will be secretary and

It is believed that the price involved was between $350,000 and $400,000. Far rell originally asked $500,000 for the club. Ruppert's best bid at that time was $450,000. Later on, Farrell dropped his price to $450,000 but by that time Ruppert decided the Yankees were not worth much more than $350,000. It is said he held out at that price for some time and that Farrell agreed to drop to $400,000 if Ruppert would boost his bid to that figure.

Wanted Jennings to Manage Ruppert, it became known today, wanted Hughey Jennings or Connie Mack as manager of the Yankees. After some jockeying, Johnson found it was impos-sible to get Mack. Then he tried to get Jennings, but Frank Navin, owner of the Tigers, balked him. Johnson wanted to give Navin Donovan for Jennings. When it looked like a deadlock over the managerial question, Ruppert finally de-cided he would take Donovan, who has the reputation for being a brainy mana-
